

Call for application for establishing research team Academic year 2020/21

Within the framework of EFOP 3.6.3 project (Young researcher from talented students) the Doctoral School of International Relations and Political Science and the Doctoral School of Sociology and Communication Sciences of Corvinus University of Budapest concerned in this tender announce an application for establishing research teams led by young researchers. Research groups have to promote the involvement of PhD and MA students in research activities conducted at Corvinus respectively. It is the leader of the research team who is entitled to apply for the call with the aim of establishing research team. The period of the research activity should be 5 months. After announcing the successful research team, PhD and MA students can apply for the positions within the framework of a scholarship.

Objective of the research team project:

Promotion of young researchers’¹ research activity and promotion of instructors whose research activity contributes to their progress. The program makes it possible for PhD and MA students to spend more time on research, learn the required skills and get closer to the researcher profession.

Procedure of the decision of research team applications:

Application for research teams can be submitted by the research team. 1 PhD student and 1 MA student is expected to participate in a research team, their work plan has to be included in the research plan.

The leadership board of the Doctoral School decides on the research team applications by involving the subproject leader of the EFOP 3.6.3 project. Applicants will be notified via e-mail by the project assistant and the list of winning research teams will be available on the website of the project as well (fiatalkutato.uni-corvinus.hu).

¹ Young researcher: Postdoctoral colleague of the university, who has not reached the age of 40 by the signing of the grant agreement.

Those research proposals are preferred which/where:

- fit the research strategy of the university,
- can promote the academic progress of young researchers,
- can be continued after the completion of the funded research project,
- results are expected to be published in qualified domestic or international journal(s).

For the student positions awarded to the successful research groups PhD and MA students can apply in the framework of ”Doctoral Excellence Scholarship” and ”Research Scholarship” via NEPTUN. The research team leader makes a recommendation regarding the rankings preferred by him/her. Decision is made by a dedicated Committee consisting of six members: the professional leader of the project EFOP 3.6.3 as chair, the three leaders of the sub-projects as members, the project manager and a member or representative from the doctoral school to which the winner research team belongs. About the Committee’s decision and about the awarded students the research team leaders will be notified by the project assistant of the EFOP 3.6.3 project.
