Aalto University School of Business

Espoo, Finland

Why Finland?

Finland is a laid-back country in which nature is omnipresent. Espoo, where the Aalto University campus is located, has many forests to explore and national parks. Helsinki is a metro ride away from campus, where you'll meet a chill, cool Nordic capital.

Fun facts:

Finland is continuously ranked the happiest country in the world, and the second most innovative. Espoo has been ranked the most intelligent community in the world. For architecture lovers: Helsinki has the biggest collection of Art Nouveau (Jugendstil) architecture in the world.

Why Aalto?

Aalto is a prestigious Nordic research institution that hosts the School of Business within a vibrant, multi-disciplinary campus. It has been awarded the prestigious "triple crown" of AACSB, EQUIS and AMBA accreditations, and was the first Nordic school to achieve this. Otaniemi and its surrounding areas hosts the largest innovation hub in the Nordic countries. The School of Business is contained within the same building as the School of Arts, Design, and Architecture to foster multidisciplinary; you can observe these fashion creatives and industrial designers work in their studios from Aalto Biz study rooms. You can also reach the capital city in no time, directly from the metro within the building, or escape to total nature for a forest-seaside jog at 5 minutes' walk.

Cornell SC Johnson College of Business

Ithaca, United States

Why Ithaca?

There is a reason that the small town of Ithaca is often referred to as "gorges Ithaca" (pun intended). With over 150 waterfalls and countless beautiful gorges that are located right next to Cornell's Campus, Ithaca is a great place for every outdoor enthusiast. Besides, the town is surrounded by wineries and cideries. In fact, many say that the Finger Lakes Region is the best wine region in the United States. Just 4h away from New York and 3h from the Niagara Falls, Ithaca allows for many different weekend trips. However, most importantly Ithaca is a student town that gets its lively vibe from over 28 000 students studying at Cornell and Ithaca College. Thus, you can find many bars and restaurants around Collegetown and Downtown to enjoy drinks and food with your friends.

Why Cornell?

Besides its excellent academic reputation, Cornell offers a glimpse into the real American student life. Away from the hustle of big cities, Cornellians have created a close-knit community with a vibrant student club scene with over 1000 organizations. You will definitely meet like-minded people from all over the world that share your interests and passions. Apart from great management classes, Cornell's diverse course catalogue also gives you the option to tap into fun courses such as Introduction to Wines or PE classes such as Sailing, Climbing or Skiing. Joining the Big Red Family will make your exchange truly special!

Cornell SC Johnson College of Business

Ithaca, United States

Visa requirements

You will receive the necessary information and documents for your visa application from Cornell before your semester begins. Most probably your personal appearance in a U.S. embassy or consulate will be required to obtain a visa, and as a student, you will most likely apply for an F-1 visa. We highly recommend starting the application process as early as possible.

Arrival

Most international flights arrive at John F. Kennedy International Airport (JFK) or Newark Liberty International Airport (EWR). From New York, you can either take a bus to Ithaca or rent a car that you return in Ithaca. Ithaca and Syracuse (1.5 hour drive away) also have an airport. They are not very busy, but we recommend you to check the flight schedule to these airports as well.

Bus: The journey is approximately 4 hours. The tickets cost around $50-65 and the price usually includes one big suitcase and your hand luggage: OurBus, Greyhound, BusBud

Car rental: Car rental is also a good option, and might be cheaper when a car is shared.

Companies that have return options in Ithaca are: Budget, Enterprise, Avis, Hertz. Please bear in mind that you will need an internationally accepted drivers' licence and that drivers under the age of 25 must pay an underaged driver fee.

Transportation

TCAT: An easy and cheap way to get around campus, town, and the area is using TCAT, the public bus system. With your Cornell student ID you will be able to use the buses for free. For more information visit here.

Ithaca Carshare: In case you require a car from time to time to get around town or do the grocery shopping you have the option to use Ithaca Carshare. As a student, you can make use of a reduced membership fee if you choose the frequent drivers' package ($168 / year) or won't pay any membership fees for infrequent use. For more information visit here.

Car Rental: For longer trips we recommend renting a car from one of the companies operating in Ithaca.

Housing

On-campus university housing is usually not offered to graduate or exchange students. If it changes, you will definitely be informed, however, do not count on this as your primary option.

The most popular area for students to live off-campus is Collegetown. Ithaca's housing market pre-covid was known to be quite harsh for the students, making it hard to find accommodation for one semester only. It has changed during Covid, but when it gets back to normal, you should start looking for accommodation as soon as possible.

Rental prices start from $600-800 pp/month in an old-style apartment/house with shared bathrooms and common areas. This kind of accommodation can be rented through one of many real estate agencies. Prices of rooms in refurbished apartments or residences such as Collegetown Terrace Apartments start at $850 and go up to the price of $2000 for a studio apartment. In pre-covid times, many of the residences didn't offer one-semester leases. Housing comes furnished, but usually there is no equipment provided, such as kitchen utensils, bedding etc.

A good option is to sublet a room. Join Cornell housing_group to see the options.

Cornell's off-campus living website may be helpful when searching for housing. Another helpful resource can be College Pads.

Tips

1. There is no possibility to withdraw from the Student Health Plan for international students. Do not count on your own health insurance to be accepted by Cornell as a substitute.
2. Sign up for free Walmart+ accounts to get your food delivered to you (saves a lot of time as grocery stores are located outside the city)
3. Make sure to order / organize your bedding before arriving as most student accommodations come without bedding or kitchen equipment
4. For around 100$ a semester you can get a gym pass that gives you access to most Cornell gyms and swimming pools.
5. Explore the nature and state parks in the area and go for hikes. Ithaca really is "gorges"!

Living Expenses

Estimated one-semester cost:

Housing – starting from $2500 (see Housing section)

Student Health Plan – c. $1500 (compulsory)

SEVIS and visa costs – c. $510

Course materials – $100-200

Food – To assess the cost of food you can visit the Walmart website for prices. Prices of a meal in a restaurant start from c. $12 excluding tip and tax (around 15%).

Visa requirements

Make sure you are informed about any immigration regulations regarding visas and residence permits that may apply.

Escola de Administração de Empresas de São Paulo–FGV

São Paulo, Brazil

Why São Paulo?

São Paulo is the largest city in Brazil and the financial heart of the country. The population and environment of São Paulo are diverse, turning the city into the most cosmopolitan city on the continent. São Paulo has immigrant communities from all around the globe including immigrants from Portugal, Italy, and Japan.

The city is a strategic place to travel around Brazil and South America, enjoying an amazing opportunity to visit Brazilian postcards like Rio de Janeiro and Salvador.

Why FGV EAESP?

FGV EAESP is one of the best business schools in Latin America. It offers a high-quality program with huge interaction with Brazilians and international students. FGV has been awarded the prestigious "triple crown" of AACSB, EQUIS, and AMBA accreditations. The university is located in the heart of São Paulo and its prestige across the country guarantees professional opportunities for its students.

CEMS terms

Term 1: early August
to early December

Term 2: early February
to late June

Visa requirements

Once the student is accepted by FGV, the university sends an acceptance letter, which in this case is the student's only "non-personal" document. The other documents are the student's responsibility. The visa procedure varies by country. Our recommendation is to enter the website of the Brazilian consulate of each country. E.g. German website where you have the contacts and necessary documentation to apply for a Brazilian student visa (VITEM IV) can be found here. FGV strongly recommends that students start the visa process as soon as they receive their Acceptance Letter from FGV EAESP.

Arrival

Once you arrive in Brazil, make sure you check the stamp you get at the airport by the Federal Police. The stamps of arrival in the country must finish with the number 1 or any odd number. You must keep the entry card that you receive when arriving in Brazil! It might be requested when you leave the country, or even when you visit other South American countries! The original Visa Application Form must be brought to Brazil to register your visa at the Federal Police. The registration must take place in São Paulo city and must be done within 30 days after the arrival of the student in the country (bear it in mind if you are arriving earlier in Brazil). Please pay attention that your mother's family name on the birth certificate & visa application form is correctly written, otherwise, you could encounter problems at the federal police once in São Paulo asking for the residence card. Once you register with the federal police, you will wait at least 3 months to receive your residence card, which you will have to keep safe, as you will need it to leave the country (even if you travel to other Latin American countries) and to enter it again.

Living Expenses

Average cost of rent without utilities – R$2,500 (room)
Average monthly cost of groceries – R$ 800 (month)
Transportation pass – R$ 4.40 per ride
Average price of a meal (PF – Prato feito): R$ 30

Tips

Grocery Stores – Dia ($), Carrefour ($$), Extra ($$), Pão de Açúcar ($$$) , St. Marche ($$$).
Store Hours – Usually grocery stores are open from 7 AM – 10 PM, and regular stores from 10 AM – 10 PM.
Best Places to Go – Paulista Avenue, Parque do Ibirapuera, MASP, Museu da Imagem e do Som, Museu do Futebol, SESC Pompéia, CCBB.
Housing – In addition to the neighborhoods mentioned in the housing section and the table found in this document, our suggestion is to look for apartments together with FGV students, this is an interesting way to avoid fraud and improve your Portuguese. Ask former FGV students or CEMSies for their flat/ house contacts.

Transportation

São Paulo metro and bus systems are very efficient and reach almost any place. A Bilhete Único (metro card) is one of the most convenient ways to use it. Uber is super cheap, and a better option in terms of safety, especially at night, costing around 15 euros for 1 hour drive. Better to avoid taking Uber Pool, as you don't know the other car travelers.

Housing

FGV EAESP does not offer on-campus housing, however, it is quite easy to find good accommodation on the outskirts of the university. Another option is to live in a neighborhood close to a subway station since FGV is located close to the Trianon–MASP station. Some neighborhoods recommended are: Bela Vista (one of the most traditional neighborhoods in the city, close to the university and to the Paulista Avenue), Vila Madalena (a bohemian area surrounded by bars, shops, restaurants and art galleries), Jardins (upscale shopping and residential zone, with several options of studios that can be rented by the Housi app, and the Uliving student residence, where many CEMSies enjoy to be) and Vila Nova Conceição (next to the Ibirapuera Park). Please avoid the regions close to Luz, República, Anhangabaú and Sé stations, as they are not the safest ones.

Housing

Most HEC local students live in student residences on the campus in Jouy-en-Josas, a small town outside of Paris. However, most CEMSies choose to live in the city of Paris or in Massy (ECLA Campus). If you need to visit the campus regularly and do not have a car it is advisable to find an apartment close to the RER B that goes to Massy from which a shuttle will drive to campus.

Price range: $$$ Area: Jardin du Luxembourg (RER B station: Luxembourg): It is an area that is close to one of the prettiest parks in Paris, near the Parisian attractions and still quite well connected to the university if you do not have a car. Moreover, it offers every kinds of services.
Price range: $$ Area: Massy – ECLA Campus (RER B station: MassyPalaiseau): Campus ECLA is ideally located between the university and the city of Paris, and it's close to the train station. It is relatively easy to get an apartment there and about a third of the CEMS cohort stayed there in Spring 2023.

Price Range: $ Area: Cité Universitaire: The Cité Universitaire is a huge campus located in the 14th arrondissement in the South of Paris next to an RER B stop which can bring you to campus. Arrival

When moving to St. Gallen, you will need to register with the city authorities within 14 days of arrival, otherwise you can be fined.

Housing

The HSG does not offer on-campus housing. To find off campus housing, students can choose between two possible approaches:

1) Housing Office: The Housing Office at HSG provides off-campus accommodation for guest students. For details regarding costs, terms and conditions please see the housing information on the Housing Office website. To apply for housing, students must complete the housing application and submit all required documents. Students may of course contact the housing managers for any assistance before their arrival or during their stay.

2) Finding Housing on Your Own: If you choose to find your own housing, allow enough time for your search. The negotiation of your rental contract is your own responsibility. Luckily, due to many students living in SG, apartment turnover is high.

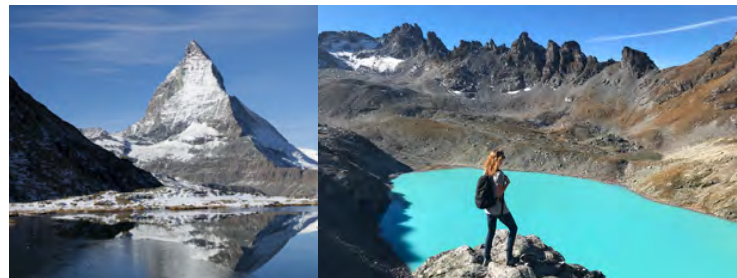

Possible Locations: Being a comparably small town, there are very few differences between the various parts of St. Gallen. In general, locations close to "Marktplatz" (city center), the main station, or near a street called "Langgasse" are popular spots for many students. Overall, most students live in areas up to 15 minutes away from the city center. It is usually quite easy to find an apartment in this radius. With that, you will reach everything by walk which is amazing!

Louvain School of Management

Louvain-La-Neuve, Belgium

LOUVAIN
School of Management

Why Louvain-la-Neuve?

Louvain-la-Neuve is a small student town and in 15 minutes you can walk through the whole city – so no need to worry about any transportation to university. Indeed, you'll live close to all your friends and reach sports facilities, classes and shopping in no time! At the same time, LLN is well connected so that you can reach Brussels within 40min by train; from there you can catch fast trains to London (2h), Paris (1h), Amsterdam (1,5h) or visit many other beautiful cities and the coast in Belgium. Furthermore, besides the CEMS Club there are also other international student associations and you can get to know people from around the world easily.

Why Louvain School of Management?

LSM has a large network of academic partners in the world and thanks to its close proximity to Brussels, the program offers many corporate events with top-tier companies. Furthermore, there are a lot of options for elective courses. As an exchange CEMSie, you usually do not have any issues with getting the courses you would like to take. Besides that, you also have the option to easily fulfil your 3rd language requirement with a French course provided by the language institute.

Fall Semester: mid-September
to mid-December
(+exams in Jan)

Spring Semester: early February to mid-May
(+exams in Jun)

Visa requirements

From the perspective of a Russian incoming CEMSie (probably the most tricky process): It is recommended to start documentation preparation 3 months before the beginning of the semester. Especially it is recommended to pay attention to the following docs: no-criminal records certificate (its translation and apostille on it), confirmation of administrative fees payment (it is not visa fee, it is a different document) and solvency proof. The last one is the most costly one. Do not transfer money to Belgium in advance, as the process to receive it later takes some time and is quite bureaucratic. A helpful link is to the visa center – the only one place that is eligible to take your document to the embassy (in Russia it was the only one way to apply). Further information available here.

Living Expenses

Average cost of rent: 360 €

Average monthly cost of groceries: EUR 250 to 300 € (depending how many parties you do and how many times you eat outside – LLN has many nice little restaurants and cafes where you can get delicious lunch!).

Housing

As an exchange CEMSie, you usually have a spot for student accommodation guaranteed. However, you would still need to apply officially at the student housing service (information are provided by the incoming manager). The housing service tries to allocate incoming CEMSies together into one accommodation. It's a great way to live with CEMSies, cook, party and study together! It is also possible to look for an apartment in Brussels, also some home CEMSies are commuting every day. However, student life is special in LLN. Student Accommodation prices for a private room in a flatshare (usually 4 to 6 persons, shared bathroom & shared kitchen) is around 360 Euro. If you look for something short-term, there are also many Facebook groups.

Tips

Grocery Stores – The cheapest option is Aldi, which is located a bit outside the city center (roughly 15min walk from the city center). Delhaize has the widest selection of groceries and is located in the basement of the small shopping mall in the center directly. If you want to save on your groceries, you can also have lunch at one of the three student restaurants in LLN. They offer a daily dish with a vegetarian option on a daily basis for only 3,35 €.

Everything you need to know about studying in LLN you will find in the LSM CEMS incoming students guide available here. Furthermore the LSM CEMS office usually replies to all of your questions in a timely manner.

Best Places to Frequent – As LLN is a small student town, you don't need to be afraid to miss anything spectacular as everything is quite close. LLN has a nice lake which is perfect for having a barbecue in the summer.

Housing – When accepted by the LSM, you will receive all the necessary information on how and where to apply for the student accommodation. Don't be nervous if they don't reply until 1 or two weeks before your arrival – for many exchange CEMSies it took a while. More short-term solutions via private sub-rent can be found via Facebook.

Arrival

There are two main airports close to Louvain-la-Neuve: Brussels-Zaventem and Brussels-Charleroi, the latter is usually the cheapest to fly to within the EU (Ryanair, Laudamotion, etc.). From Brussels, you can reach LLN by train and you just need to change once. Upon arrival everyone, whether from the EU or not, whose primary residence is in Belgium is required by law to register with the local town council. After visiting the city hall, the police might come to your place to check if you really live there. After that, you get your residence permit. Please find more information here and here.

Transportation

If you live in LLN, you do not need to consider transportation other than walking or maybe biking. For train rides to other Belgian cities there are reduced prices for persons younger than 26 (Youth Ticket – Go Pass 1). Furthermore, on weekends you just pay half the price of each train ticket. For reference: normal train ride one-way to Brussels is 5.50€.

Travel / sightseeing destinations

One nice thing about Belgium is its location and its small size: From here you can visit neighboring countries within a couple of hours e.g. NL–Amsterdam, FR–Paris, DE–Frankfurt. But there are a lot of beautiful cities in Belgium as well such as Brugge (said to be the Venice of Belgium and has a very historical and romantic atmosphere), Ghent and Brussels of course. But also for nature-loving incoming CEMSies, the Ardennes provide a nice area to go for hikes.

Norwegian School of Economics

Bergen, Norway

Why Bergen?

Bergen is a beautiful city on the coast of Norway. It offers stunning nature for hiking and camping (seven mountains and a fjord), tourist attractions (a UNESCO World Heritage site) as well as nice bars, restaurants, and local stores; you can taste whale meat and experience fjord cruises!

Why NHH?

NHH is one of the best business schools in the Nordics. It offers a high-quality programme with diverse courses in traditional topics such as finance and economics, but also in environmental studies and business development. Moreover, because of the small size of the city and the university, NHH offers a lot of interaction between students in the form of many active student associations and clubs!

Travel / sightseeing destinations

Thanks to affordable national flights and car rentals in Norway, students generally travel a lot within the country. There are good bus and train connections as well. Many students want to explore the North where Tromsø is popular for Northern lights and Lofoten for hiking adventures. Areas around the cities like Stavanger and Ålesund have much to offer for nature lovers. Traveling to Oslo means discovering the vibrant capital of Norway. The islands of Svalbard near the North Pole are some of the most extreme travel destinations within the country. Within a reasonable distance from Bergen there are also some national parks like Folgefonna, Hallingskarvet and Jostedalbreen.

Top CEMS events of the year

Running cocktails, cottage/Norwegian Lapland trips and hiking events are only some examples of the variety of events that CEMS Club Bergen organizes.

Nova School of Business and Economics

Lisbon, Portugal

NOVA SCHOOL OF
BUSINESS & ECONOMICS

Why Portugal?

Portugal and Lisbon are a great place to live for many reasons: food is delicious, people are super friendly, there is an average of 300 days of sun a year, alcohol is very cheap (beer is 0.5€) and there are so many fun things to do and see given that Lisbon is the capital. Travelling within the country is also cheap and diverse.

Why Nova?

Nova has triple crown accreditation by EQUIS, AMBA & AACSB, making it a great academic school to study in. Classes are dynamic and professors are young and have corporate experience. Nova's Master in Management is ranked #16 by the Financial Times and Nova is #1 business school in Portugal. Although it is not located in the city center, the campus is brand-new (2019) and it is right on the famous Carcavelos beach, where people surf all year around. The best thing about Nova, besides its great location, is the sense of work-life balance and community openness. Everyday something different and not related to the university is happening on campus.

CEMS terms

- Term 1: mid-August to late December
- Term 2: mid-January to end of May

Visa requirements

Students from the EU and the EEA do not need a student visa to study in Portugal but if your stay in Portugal will exceed 90 days, you must apply for a certificate of registration upon arrival at the local city council office. You should bring a national identity card or passport, as well as a valid European Health Insurance Card in order to be officially added to the population register. You should report your arrival and receive the registration within the first four months in Portugal. Students who are EU/EEA nationals can also work in Portugal without any restrictions. Non-EU/EEA students wanting to study in Portugal will require a student visa and a residence permit for the duration of their studies. International students should visit the Portuguese embassy or diplomatic mission in their home country to make their visa application. Non-EU students must obtain their visas before travelling to Portugal. Your visa application can take anywhere between one to three months to process, so make sure to apply early!

Arrival

Once non-EU students arrive in Portugal, they should book an appointment with the local branch of the Portuguese Immigration and Borders service (SEF) to apply for their residence permit. EU citizens have 90 days to register at SEF. Many students find it helpful to join the ERASMUS student network that gives you some discounts and organizes a lot of events and trips for international students. Your CEMS Club will have for sure organized some welcome days to show you around the best places.

Transportation

The Lisbon transport network works smoothly and is relatively punctual, although at times it could benefit from a higher frequency of service. The major means of transport in Lisbon are: BUS, Train and metro. From the green line on the metro you can reach Cais do Sodré where you can catch a 15 or 25 minute train to Carcavelos. Most students have the monthly pass that allows you to travel inside Lisbon and in the surrounding districts by bus, metro, tram and trains. You can get this pass at Cais do Sodré station and if you have under 23 years old you get a student discount.

Tips

Grocery Stores – Pingo Doce, Continente, Lidl
Store Hours – Most are open every day from 10am to 10pm. Inside shopping centers every day until 11pm
Housing – Be careful when renting a house. Always ask for exact location and lots of pictures. Skype calls to see the house are possible but not regular. Most of the houses for rent are quite old. This means they are super spacious but quite cold during the winter. Do not expect AC or heating.

Living Expenses

Average cost of rent without utilities – 400/500€
Average monthly cost of groceries – 100€
Transportation pass (monthly)– 30€ - 40€
Insurance – 150 €

Housing

You can either live in Carcavelos, there are on and off-campus residences from milestone, or you can live in Lisbon. Most students live in Lisbon to better enjoy the city life but living near the beach is also good. In Lisbon you should live on the green metro line or near the train station. Most students live in Santos, Bairro Alto, Cais do Sodré, Baixa, Martim Moniz or Marques de Pombal. Price range: 350€-650€ in all the above-mentioned districts. It depends if you are lucky or not with your landlord and what you are willing to settle for. Try to contact other CEMSies who have been in Lisbon to pass down contacts. There are some apartments that CEMSies are always living in.

National University of Singapore

Singapore

Why Singapore?

Singapore is really vibrant, convenient and has amazing food! Singapore is hailed as a highly favourable destination to get a competitive degree. The country's beautiful environment and global connections make it an enthralling destination for international students to live, interact, and work unitedly. Singapore may appear like a little dot on the world map, but it bustles all over with attractions and activities. The country's affluent multicultural heritage is highlighted through the several cultural groups such as Indians, Chinese, Malays, and Eurasians living together harmoniously.

Visa requirements

NUS starts the process for a student visa for you. It's an online application. Once you get entry approval from the ICA, you are allowed to enter the country within the 2 week period you applied for. After arrival, you need to complete the Student's Pass formalities in order to get a student's pass (i.e. student visa).

Housing

Exchange students usually live at PGPR or Kent Vale because it's close to campus. The housing is valid till the end of the semester here (i.e. April). However, on-campus housing for Graduate students are very limited. You are encouraged to look for off-campus housing.

Another possibility is to rent an apartment, though it is harder to do so for a span of 4 months. You can post on Facebook to find people to live with. Before initiating your search, it would be great to get in touch with the rest of your cohort – not only as a way of starting to know each other, but also to form groups in case you want to look for accommodation together. The sooner this happens, the higher the likelihood of finding a suitable place.

Thian Hock Keng Temple: This is Singapore's oldest Buddhist temple. The elaborate architecture, done up in the traditional southern Chinese style, was built without using a single nail. Definitely a must-see while you're in Singapore!

Sentosa: Sentosa is an island resort off the southern coast of Singapore that's home to major tourist attractions like Universal Studios Singapore and the S.E.A. Aquarium.

Rotterdam School of Management, Erasmus University

Rotterdam, Netherlands

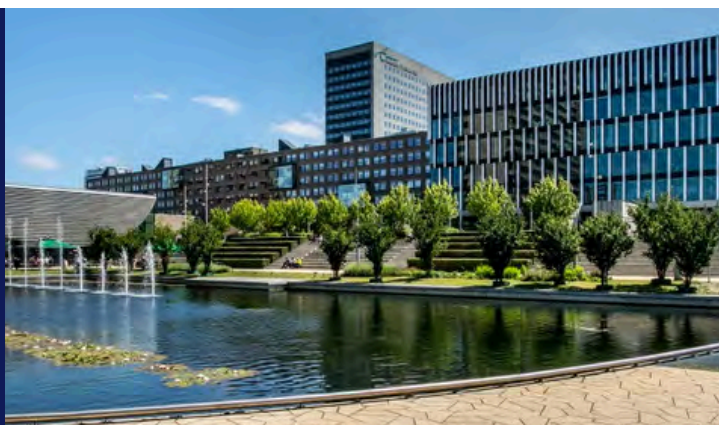

Why Rotterdam?

Rotterdam is one of the most international cities you can experience. Countless nationalities live here and enjoy life together. After its destruction during WWII, the city has now entirely changed its face and is known for its modern architecture and a vibrant lifestyle. The university is an important part of the city and you will see many students making Rotterdam their own. The city has the perfect size for studying and life never gets boring. You will have the feeling of living in a major city, while everything can still be reached by bike. You will find most students going out in similar places in the city center.

Why RSM?

The university is, just like the city itself, an absolute melting pot, hosting over 30,000 students from all around the world. RSM consistently ranks among the top 10 of European business schools and possesses the Triple Crown Accreditation. The CEMS/MIM programme is ranked as the third best Management Master worldwide. The university's CEMS Club is known for its activity and has won several awards in the past years.

Term 1: early September

Term 2: early February

Visa requirements

You do not require a visa if you are a national of: European Union (EU); Liechtenstein; Norway; Iceland; Switzerland. If you are not a national of one of these countries, then you may need a short-stay Schengen visa. This allows you to stay in the Schengen area for a maximum of 90 days within a 180-day period. You can use the Ministry of Foreign Affairs Schengen Visa Advisor to see whether you need a visa or not. Even if you do not need a visa, you must still meet certain conditions in order to visit the Netherlands. These can be found here; Immigration and Naturalisation Service \(IND\).

Arrival

If you are staying, or plan to stay, in the Netherlands for more than four months then you need to register (inschrijven) at the town hall in the municipality (gemeente) where you are living. Whether you're a Dutch citizen or an international, everyone living in the Netherlands is required to be registered at their home address. Being registered allows the Basisregistratie personen (BRP or Municipal Personal Records Database) to better handle emergency situations, to track the size of the Dutch population and to allocate the right municipal taxes to each household. Registration additionally is required to open a bank account and simplify other everyday transactions.

Living Expenses

Accommodation (furnished, including shared / individual utilities): €500-€850 / month

Insurance: €55 / month

Books and study materials (may vary per study programme): €50-150 / month

Daily expenses (food, drinks, clothes, going out, public transport, etc.): €350 / month

Other (non-recurrent) expenses: Visa and residence permit fees (for non-EU students): €192

Bicycle (secondhand): €150

A number of items with their average prices

Cup of tea or coffee in a café: €3.00

Cheese sandwich: €4.00

Beer: €3.50

Meal in a typical student restaurant: €12.50

Cinema ticket: €10.50

Hairdresser (cut and blow-dry): €25-€60

Tips

Groceries at Lidl, Dirk or Aldi are less expensive than the same products at Albert Heijn.

Keep track of grocery discounts, all weekly discounts ('aanbiedingen' in Dutch) are advertised on the websites of the supermarkets too.

Buy good but cheap produce at the Binnenrotte market every Tuesday and Saturday.

Make use of the discounts of the ESN card.

Get a Rotterdam pass or Rotterdam Welcome card for discounts on cultural activities in Rotterdam.

Transportation

You can get around town easily on a bike. This is not only typically Dutch but also a cheap means of transportation. You can rent a bike at Swapfiets for around ~€17/month or buy a second-hand bike at Mega Bike. Bus tickets cost around € 2 for a single fare in the city. You can buy a 40% discount card for train tickets for travelling outside rush hour.

Housing

The student housing market in Rotterdam is very competitive and it can be quite challenging to find accommodation close to campus and at an affordable price. You basically have three options:

On-Campus Residence: For Master students, the on-campus housing options are unfortunately quite limited, but it might be worth checking out SSH Student Housing and the XIOR building. However, getting a room is quite competitive and you'll need to register early and be lucky. Price range: 400-700€

Off-Campus Residences: There are several student housings options (not linked to the university) in Rotterdam. The main ones include The Student Hotel \(TSH\), The International House, and Holland2Stay. These three residences are all located in Kratingen and within 5min biking distance from campus. However, rooms tend to be quite expensive. Price range: 600 - 1,200€ (e.g. TSH room ca. 800€)

Arrange your own room/apartment: Most of the (CEMS) students rent a flat and live with roommates. The best areas to live in are Kratingen (closest to campus) and the city center. Price range: 450€ - 1,000€ (depending on the quality of the flat).

Google Maps

Travel / sightseeing destinations

Amsterdam: From unconventional restaurants and local craft beers to a wealth of world-class museums, it's easy to see why Amsterdam is a top tourist destination. Its bike culture and charming canals are also all part of the city's universal appeal.

The Windmills of Kinderdijk: On the River Noord between Rotterdam and Dordrecht is the famous village of Kinderdijk. The big draw these days are the fantastically preserved 18th-century windmills. Now UNESCO World Heritage Sites, the 19 Kinderdijk windmills, built in the 18th century, are the largest surviving concentration of windmills in the Netherlands.

Delta Works: Zeeland's Spectacular Dikes: Incorporating the deltas of the Rhine, the Maas, and the Schelde Rivers, Zeeland includes the numerous islands and peninsulas of the southwestern section of the Netherlands. As you travel the area, you'll see evidence of the mega-engineering project known as the Delta Works. These massive, hi-tech dams control the water that enters from the North Sea.

Top 3 CEMS events of the year

1. Risk Game Night

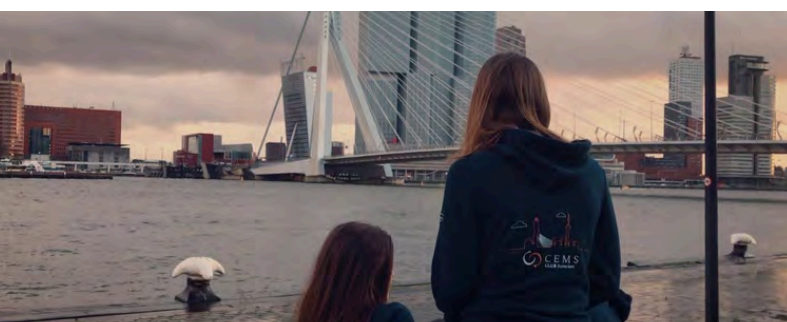

Risk is a strategy board game of diplomacy, conflict, and conquest where alliances are formed and dissolved. CEMSies were placed into teams of 4-6 people to play together and the aim was to conquer their enemies' territories by building an army, moving their troops in, and engaging in battle on a world map. The event turned out to be a half serious half not serious give-and-get throughout the whole night.

2. CEMS Club Christmas Gala

At the end of the fall semester we all came together for one last glorious dinner with the whole cohort. We booked a restaurant and put on our best dresses and suits to enjoy the night. With sufficiently provided food and beer we held our own CEMS Club awards, honouring those among us were voted to have impacted the semester in a memorable way. The celebrations were of course continued at the club afterwards.

3. Halloween Murder Mystery Party

For the spookiest season of the year, the creativity really starting boiling. After weeks of suspense the night of Halloween hit and prisoners, angels, and Pablo Escobar were roaming the city! It was truly a sight to behold and made for a great time. Mysteriously this group of diverse and dangerous creatures got along magnificently and parted ways peacefully at the end of the night.

Stockholm School of Economics

Stockholm, Sweden

Why Stockholm?

Stockholm is home to beautiful Scandinavian architecture, abundant open water and extensive national parks. It offers a perfect balance between city life, an innovative business environment and nature.

Fun facts: The first Nobel Prizes were awarded in Stockholm in 1901. Locals live on some of the 30,000 islands of the archipelago and commute by boat. It barely gets dark in June due to the midnight sun.

Why SSE?

SSE is one of the leading business schools in Europe and the top-ranked business school in the Nordics. The small number of students (~1600) allows for easy personal connections to students, staff, corporate partners and alumni. SSE's student association provides students with all forms of extracurricular entertainment such as sports, tech, art, travel and, of course, fantastic parties. Tsinghua SEM

Visa requirements

All foreign students coming to study in China are required to complete the China Student Visa (X) in advance. After being admitted, Tsinghua will guide you through the visa process via email. Students from Canada, Australia and many EU countries can submit through the China Visa Application Center.

Arrival

You are required to get a residence permit within 30 days of arriving in China. If you do not live in a school dormitory, you'll need to go to the police station to report your address after settling down.

Housing

School Dormitory: Tsinghua has dormitories for international students, but the vacancies are limited. You will need to follow the school's email notification and apply immediately when the application opens. The price of on-campus accommodation is about 2400RMB/ month for private and 1200RMB/ month for shared rooms.
Private housing: There are no known private-run student dormitories around Tsinghua. Most exchange students rent rooms of shared apartments in Wudaokou area (along Chengfu Rd.) or Liudaokou area (along Xeyuan Rd.). These places are in cycling distance from the school, and close to the subway/bus stations. The price for a shared room ranges from 2800RMB to 4500RMB. The most common way to find an apartment in Beijing is through real estate agents. Book a hostel for a couple of days, contact an agent, and let them take you for a few visits. The rental market is fast moving, and the landlords usually do not take reservations long in advance.

Tips

Grocery Stores – Tmall Supermarket on campus (B1 of Cbuilding); Lotus Supermarket in Wudaokou outside Tsinghua East Gate.
Store Hours – Tmall Supermarkets on campus 7:30-23:30; Supermarkets 8:30-22:00; Shopping Centers 10:00-22:00.
Best Places to Frequent – Sanlitun area; Shichahai-Gulou area; 798 Art District
Housing – Two-month-deposit needed. Do not make transfers before checking the room. Ask a Chinese speaking friend to check your contract.

Average cost of rent without utilities – €350-500
Average monthly cost of groceries – €150-350
Public Transportation – around €0.5 each trip
Insurance – around 500RMB/year (Tsinghua will handle it uniformly after your arrival).

Santiago, Chile

Why Santiago?

Santiago is a prevalent city in Latin America, a fast-moving hub, and home to the regional headquarters of many multinational companies. Santiago is a diverse city with many contrasting neighborhoods that allow you to be fully immersed in South American culture. Just a couple hours away from the beach, but surrounded by the mountains, there are many possibilities for activities. Hiking, rafting and climbing are just some of the outdoors activities that are available in Santiago.

Why UAI?

UAI has a strong network of students who are helpful and supportive, especially if you would like to learn Spanish. Although the campus is far from the city, it is architecturally outstanding and set at the base of the Andes mountains. CEMS terms

Term 1: early September
to mid December

Term 2: early March to early June

Visa requirements

It is recommended to get a student visa before coming to Chile. This is done in your home country, with a Chilean embassy. However, it is possible to stay in Chile on a tourist visa for a maximum of 90 days. Students in the past have opted for this option as it is more convenient, and therefore, left the country after 90 days, to then re-enter. While not encouraged by the CEMS office, it is a possibility. However, Chilean immigration is each time getting more strict about this.

Arrival

Once in Santiago, you must register your visa with PDI. This allows you to get a Chilean identity card and a rut identification number. Some apps/websites also require you to provide your rut when signing up.

Housing

The School does not provide any type of housing. However, it is fairly easy to find housing, and can be done upon arrival or shortly before.

Housing recommendations:

Price range: $$$, Name of district: Las Condes

It is probably the safest area for students, close to a lot of convenience stores, malls and parks. The L1 metro gets you everywhere in Santiago.

Price range: $$, Name of district: Providencia

It is also a safe area, around a lot of bars, stores and activities. There is also a UAI bus going from there, which is convenient.

Price Range: $, Name of district: La Reina or Nuñoa

More residential areas, but they have good connection with buses and metro. It can also be convenient for sharing cars/Ubbers to get to UAI.

Bogota, culminating at 2640 meters above sea level, is a very attractive city with a huge cultural richness but also has a lot to offer in terms of nightlife and activities. It is also in the heart of Colombia, which makes it easy to travel from this point. On the other hand, you should also ask yourself why Colombia. The country has a variety of climates rarely equaled, beautiful landscapes (paradisical beaches on the Pacific and Atlantic coasts, preserved tropical forests, magnificent natural parks, high Andean peaks, volcanoes, green hills, etc.) and a population whose kindness knows no bounds, making the country an ideal place to live an incredible experience.

Bocconi University

Milan, Italy

Bocconi

Why Milan?

Milan is the perfect example of old-world romance meets urban grit. It is known as a cosmopolitan city for fashion, food, and art. It's less touristy compared to the other destinations in Italy, such as Rome or Florence, but has just as much to offer. Not just in terms of architecture, art and history, but what you will come to love the most are aperitivos in the city of its origin – and we all know Milan does this best! Additionally, it is a great location to explore the beautiful lakes in northern Italy.

Why Bocconi?

The Bocconi Campus is located south of the city centre of Milan in the area between Porta Romana and the Navigli. Just last year, the new campus that stretches the University area even further has been opened. Bocconi is ranked #8 in the World University Ranking for its Masters in Management. Especially if you are interested in Finance and Investment Banking, Bocconi has lots of corporate events and company visits to help get your career started.

UCD Michael Smurfit Graduate Business School

Dublin, Ireland

UCD Michael Smurfit
Graduate Business School

Why Dublin?

Dublin is a vibrant city, which is not only home for the dark Guinness beer and great pub culture, but also the home to many tech companies' HQs in Europe. You will have a chance to meet many internationals working in Dublin which can feel comfortable, but know that the locals are extremely warm and welcoming! Also, if you, like most CEMSies, love to travel, note that Ryanair flies from Dublin all across Europe for insane deals (e.g. <50 return to London, Barcelona and more).

Why UCD?

UCD was ranked in the top 1% of higher education institutions worldwide. What makes studying here interesting for a CEMS student is how well UCD incorporates corporate partners into the students' lives. You will have many opportunities to meet company representatives through campus visits, guest speakers and some long-term class projects. Especially, if you are interested in the Tech sector, rest assured you will be constantly immersed in that environment. Also, the university was founded in 1854, making it an aesthetically interesting place to study and be around.

Fun fact: The Smurfit Business School library is transformed from a church.

You are truly spoilt for choice when it comes to tourism in South Africa. Things to do in and around Cape Town: here, here and here. Some highlights:

Hermanus: A great place for whale watching! You are almost guaranteed to see some humpback whales in this coastal town. For the brave ones, they also organize shark cage diving.

Cape of good hope: A must-visit destination! Experience the most spectacular views on the Chapman's Peak drive, see the famous Cape point, and spend some time with the African penguins at Boulders Beach.

Muizenberg beach: great place to learn surfing! Out of the prime surfing spots around Cape Town, Muizenberg beach is especially well-suited for beginners who want to learn the art of the sport during their stay in South Africa. Watch out for the Great Whites!

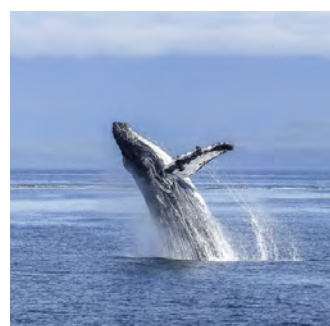

Garden Route: This route is a perfect opportunity to do a road trip! On the way you will be able to do scenic hikes, wine tastings, bungee jumps, surfing etc. etc!

Kruger National Park: It's one of the largest game reserves in Africa. It covers an area of 19,623 km² in northeastern SA. There, you will definitely see the Big 5!

Transportation

Public transport: City buses MyCiti operates a number of routes around the city and out into surrounding areas. To access the service you need to buy a MyCiti bus card and pre-load it with travel tokens. You can buy and top up your card at the larger MyCiti bus stations or at a number of participating retailers. Cape Town is one of the leading cities on the continent, but when it comes to public transport, it is important to remember that South Africa is a developing country, so public transport options are not as extensive or reliable as you may be used to.

Private transport: Uber & Bolt are very popular and widely used in Cape Town. A range of privately-owned metered taxi cabs are also available. They tend to be clearly marked as cabs or taxis, often with their per-kilometre rate and contact number displayed on the vehicle. You can catch a taxi on one of Cape Town's busier streets, or you can also call the cab company and order a cab to fetch you at a particular time. Enter the numbers of local companies (e.g. Excite Taxis, CabCo). You should only use recognised and registered public transport companies. Unmetered shared minibus taxis are commonplace in South Africa. They accommodate roughly 10 people at a time and run a number of set routes. Commonly used routes for UCT students are those operating between the centre of Cape Town and surrounding areas including Observatory, Camps Bay, Sea Point, Rondebosch and Claremont. These routes are also generally considered safe. Remember never to be the only passenger in a minibus taxi. In addition to the driver and the fare collector, there should be at least three other people in any minibus you use. It is best to exercise caution when using shared minibus taxis.
