

THESIS TOPIC SELECTION: MEET OUR STAFF

Choosing a thesis topic can be a challenging task. You might not be familiar with all the lecturers, or you may feel uncertain about the topics available. To help with your decision-making, the Department is offering an opportunity to meet with members and colleagues. This session will allow you to:

- Ask questions about potential topics
- Explore possible research directions
- Exchange ideas and gain insights to refine your topic selection

To help you choose the best topic, the relevant Neptun site will be activated only on 3 March 2025. It is recommended that you do not finalize your Neptun record before this topic matchmaking event. There is no need to rush, as topic assignments are not based on a 'first come, first served' basis.
